THE COMMON ENEMY.

The tendency manifested by some newspapers claiming to be Democratic, to give themselves over to criticism of Democrats rather than devote their attention to the common enemy of Democracy, is to be deprecated no matter in which direction they tend. The only certain result of such a policy is to make for strife which will injure the chances of the party in the coming election.

This is true whether it is applied to those who are endeavoring to deprecate the candidacy of Judge Parker by making it appear that he stands for only one set of democratic politicians, or to those who seem bent upon attacking other men who aspire to the presidential nomination.

As we see it, there is absolutely no sense in this sort of criticism. Its natural result is toward misrepresentation and the opening up of the old sores. It is easy enough to deride, belittle, criticize and misrepresent; but this sort of thing does not make for Democratic harmony, and without harmony that is real, there can be no hope for Democratic success.

All Democrats and lovers of honest government have a common enemy in the Republican party. Differences of opinion as to the availability of aspirants for nomination at the hands of the Democratic party are natural, but there is no excuse for their expression in terms that only make for party strife. These should be reserved for the real enemy.

The Republican administration and the Republican party present a sufficiently vulnerable target for democratic attacks, and all of them should be timed in that direction.

In the Boer war 400,000 horses, "many of the number being mules," were killed. Is it any wonder the mule market is stiff? Don't worry about the peace congress; raise mules.

The next book from the prolific pen of Arthur Roosevelt should be entitled "From Civil Service Reform to Peanut Politics," and the title suggests an autobiography.

Robert H. Roosevelt, uncle of the president, declines to serve as a delegate from New York to the St. Louis convention. Well, no slight to the family intepred.

Of course the shoe manufacturers of Massachusetts would not be traitors to the "stand pat" dictum of Boss Lodge. They only dreamed they wanted free hides.

The Berlin theaters are scoring big hits hitting off President Roosevelt's strenuous idiosyncrasies. Teddy should demand an explanation of Specky.

Has Indiana men of presidential size for the vice presidential nominations of both parties?

A FAIR PROPOSITION.

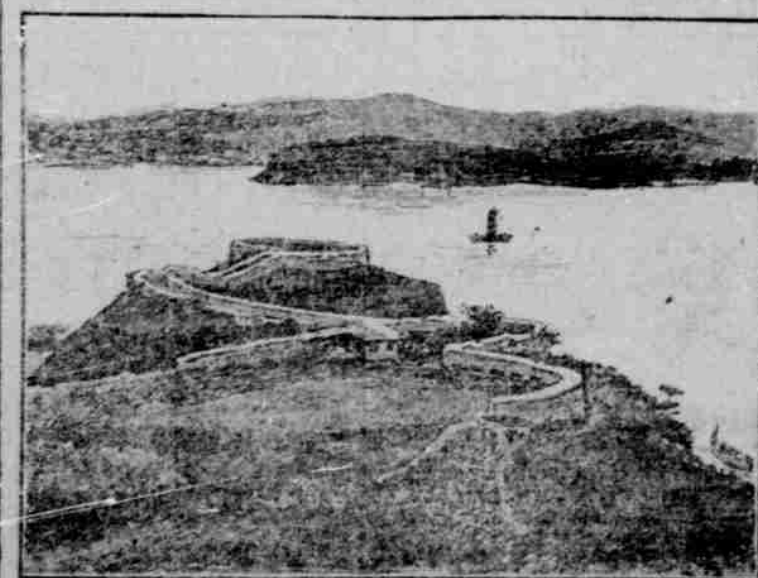

It is one of the pleasant duties of the Review to call the attention of the Democrats of the City of Bisbee to the fact that a mass meeting of the voters of the party has been called for Tuesday evening next. At that meeting there will be chosen forty Democratic voters of the city, who will be delegated to meet with the county convention at Tombstone on May 14. It is also a pleasure to note that as far as can be ascertained, by interviews and otherwise, there has not only been no mention of sending an instructed delegation to the National convention at St. Louis, but a strong sentiment in favor of the National delegates going with free hands, uninstructed as to any candidate whose name may be mentioned at that convention for the presidency of the United States. This seems to be the almost universal opinion of the members of the party in this city. It will be remembered that Arizona will have not only favors, but demands to make of the National convention. Her fight for statehood must be waged there, and being in an absolutely free and independent position, untrammelled by instructions of any kind, Arizona's opportunities will be better, brighter and have more hopes of successful pleading than were she represented by delegates fettered with instructions. At the meeting of Tuesday evening, there is no doubt, but what the faithful Democratic voters of this city will select forty Democrats who will carry out their wishes at the convention. As far as can be learned this is the sentiment that prevails generally, and feeling content with this prospective result, the Review, along with other good loyal Democrats of the city, looks forward to such a result, and will be content to abide by the wisdom of the voters present at that meeting.

Harmony prevails within the ranks of the party in this city, and it is a pleasure to note the unanimity of feeling that prevails. The voters of the Democratic party of Bisbee require no coaching. They are fully aware as to those who have stood in the ranks, in times that are past, and have ever been loyal to the party and its tenets, and when that convention meets Tuesday evening, they will again select forty from among those who have been actively engaged in party work, and they will be satisfied that their wishes will be carried out to the letter. This fact can not be too strongly impressed upon the minds of all that there is everything to gain in an instructed delegation, there is everything to lose in one instructed.

The Democrats of Bisbee should turn out in full force. Let Tammany Hall be packed to the doors, and let every Democrat who has a word to say, or a recommendation to offer, be accorded an attentive audience.

THE EPIDEMIC SCARE.

As is invariably the case, the foolish publication of a scare story with a glaring headline of "Black Heart," has had some effect on the imaginations of the more timid, and for the past two days reports that have been exaggerated from this source have pictured Bisbee in the throes of the Death Monster, and the inhabitants dying off at various ratios, when repeated five hundred miles distant, have caused the sending of inquiring telegrams and a shying away from Bisbee until the foolish report has either been confirmed or denied.

Yesterday morning telephone inquiry from Douglas stated that a report was in circulation there that Bisbee was in the clutches of a plague, that fifteen deaths had occurred in our midst on Friday night, and that the death rate was rapidly increasing.

As rapidly as possible these reports have been denied, and the Review hopes that the foolish scare is passed. The facts are that there have been several cases of pneumonia in Bisbee recently, and several fatalities have occurred from that disease. During the month just passed there have been twenty-three deaths in Bisbee. This is the exact number as shown by the records kept by both undertaking parlors in the city.

At the close of the week the number of pneumonia cases have decreased, and on yesterday there were no deaths from any cause.

Statistics show that the death rate in the city has been about fifty per cent of the number afflicted, while the usual per centage from the disease ranges between thirty and forty.

The "favorite son" courtesy promises to be scantily shown by either national convention this year.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge seems to be the next hottest thing to Roosevelt on the administration pike.

Having settled the trust question, Attorney General Knox has taken up the Chinese exclusion question.

The great Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis opened yesterday. The landlords are ready and a-lyin' for us.

The widow Bennett's lawyer refers to "one William J. Bryan." Does he mean to add gratuitous insult to financial injury?

But one thing can keep the next national administration from being Democratic—factional backbiting and back-pulling.

We are slow to believe that which is believed would hurt our feelings. —Ovid.
